Hanover, 4 September 2025: At TUI MAGIC LIFE Candia Maris in Crete, modern fitness culture meets a relaxed holiday atmosphere and the laid-back Greek lifestyle. From 25 October to 1 November 2025, a new sports event centred on yoga and Bandixx will bring together innovative training formats and the distinctive atmosphere of an all-inclusive resort. Surrounded by Crete's Mediterranean charm, participants can look forward to a week of exercise, relaxation and sunshine.

Yoga sessions and the Bandixx workout concept form the heart of the event, providing holistic training for body and mind. The programme includes daily yoga classes on the beach, ranging from powerful Vinyasa flows to meditative practices such as Yoga Nidra. These sessions are complemented by the popular Bandixx workout, which is a dynamic full-body training programme designed to build strength, endurance and flexibility. Working with constant tension across varying resistance bands creates an intensive training experience with Bandixx that is suitable for both beginners and advanced participants.

"With this new event series, we are creating a multi-day experience for our guests that seamlessly combines training, relaxation and community. We will launch in Crete in October, with more destinations and TUI MAGIC LIFE clubs to follow," explains Dirk Stresing, Head of Events at TUI MAGIC LIFE. The next events in the series are already being planned.

Alongside the curated sports offering, guests can enjoy the tried-and-tested all-inclusive concept, a variety of culinary options and the Greek sunshine. Classes can be booked flexibly via the MAGIC LIFE app, ensuring a tailored holiday with plenty of opportunity to relax.

Price tip: a week at the club during the event is available from €1,385 per person in a superior double room, including flights and seven nights' accommodation.

Further information about the event can be found here.
