About TUI Cruises:

TUI Cruises is a joint venture between TUI AG, the world's number one tourism group, and the global cruise shipping line Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. The Hamburg-based company has offered sea voyages for the German-speaking market since May 2009. With the launch of Mein Schiff 6, TUI Cruises' fleet will have a capacity of around 14,000 beds. With its feel-good concept, TUI Cruises above all targets guests focusing on freedom, space, quality and individual service. And the feel-good fleet continues to grow: Two more newbuilds will follow in 2018 and 2019. They will replace Mein Schiff 1 and Mein Schiff 2, so that TUI Cruises will then operate a fleet of six ships with a capacity of around 16,000 beds. Environmentally conscious entrepreneurial action is firmly anchored in TUI Cruises' corporate values. The new ships set new standards in terms of environmental friendliness.
